The Ball Forum

The Ball Community has added an informative addition to this Site. It has included a forum for the benefit of our "Community" as a resource for the various groups and individuals within the city as an place and opportunity to share information and communication,

The Ball Forum started as a service to our city groups but has gain ined popularity and catchment area until has reached far beyond our original area and intentions,

We started out as a small group of a couple dozen like-minded individuals to become a massive group of 1000's of people from all over.

It serves a number of individuals looking for more information and some friendship; to a large group of folks who share lifestyles or similar fetishes. It has grown and grown over a relatively short time to provide a vast number of types of information, types of people, and a wide variety of likes and interests.

It is a place where you can be yourself and where respect for that is held in highest regard,

The forum is for adult usage only and while guests are welcome you will find that our free membership offers more information and opportunity.

Just some of the information and other things you will find on the Forum are:
